

UNIVERSITY OF ARKANSAS

College of Education
& Health Professions

MASTER OF ATHLETIC TRAINING PROGRAM

At the University of Arkansas, we are preparing future athletic trainers to enter the field. The 2-year, graduate program prepares students to work collaboratively as healthcare providers who are an integral part of the sports medicine team. Our program focuses on creating patient-centered and evidence-informed healthcare providers who can serve as advocates for their patients both on and off the field to improve health-related quality of life.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- ◆ The University of Arkansas has a rich history in master's-level athletic training education and has been accredited since 2005.
- ◆ Clinical placements are possible in diverse settings including universities, secondary schools, physician and therapy clinics, professional sports, and emerging settings.
- ◆ The program has an average, first-time pass rate on the Board of Certification exam above 97% over the past 9 years.
- ◆ We have excellent job placement of graduates at universities, high schools, in physician's offices and with professional sports leagues and government agencies.

Applications are now being accepted for the program. For more information about the program, degree plan and application process, please visit our website at

atep.uark.edu

FOLLOW US AT:

uarkathletictraining

uark MAT

atep.uark.edu

MASTER OF ATHLETIC TRAINING PROGRAM

Information Sessions

VIRTUAL: September 29th, 2021 from 6:30-8:00pm CST via Zoom

FACE-TO-FACE: Friday, October 15, 2021 from 2:00-4:00pm CST at the University of Arkansas Campus in Fayetteville, AR

Learn more about the Master of Athletic Training (MAT) program at the University of Arkansas. In these information sessions you'll meet faculty and students, learn about the program and its exciting opportunities, tour facilities and have an opportunity for Q and A. To attend an information session, please sign up today or scan QR code on the right.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- ◆ The University of Arkansas has a rich history in master's-level athletic training education and has been accredited since 2005.
- ◆ The program focuses on creating patient-centered and evidence-informed healthcare providers who can serve as advocates for their patients both on and off the field.
- ◆ Clinical placements are possible in diverse settings including universities, secondary schools, physician and therapy clinics, professional sports, and emerging settings.
- ◆ The program has an average, first-time pass rate on the Board of Certification exam above 97% over the past 9 years.
- ◆ We have excellent job placement of graduates at universities, high schools, in physician's offices and with professional sports leagues and government agencies.

Applications are now being accepted for the Summer 2022 program cohort. For more information about the program, degree plan and application process, please visit our website at atep.uark.edu.

FOLLOW US AT:

 uarkathletictraining

 uark MAT

atep.uark.edu